Description: This technique-based workshop explores the unique embroidery processes that Meredith uses to create her artworks. By stitching onto a combination of woven and water-soluble fabrics we will create a range of experimental embroidered artworks. Participants can expect to create a range of experimental stitched surfaces and sculptural forms in this workshop. We will also explore Meredith's signature shadow mounting technique so your embroidered creations can be presented in a professional manner, ready for framing. No experience is necessary but basic sewing machine operation skills will be helpful.

Workshop requirement list:

- A sewing machine with its standard accessories. Your machine must be suitable for FREE MOTION EMBROIDERY/DARNING and have the ability to turn the 'feed teeth down'. If you have a slide on free arm/sewing table, bring this along too. Please test your machine before you arrive to make sure it is in good condition and sewing well.
- A freehand embroidery foot or darning foot for your sewing machine. This foot does not normally come standard with machines and may need to be purchased separately.
- Spare sewing machine needles (sharp or jeans needles recommended).
- Bobbins suited to your machine.
- A thread-stand (if you have one, no need to go out and buy one).
- A small machine embroidery hoop (15 – 25cm is good). I prefer the sturdy wooden machine embroidery hoops but any hoop with a nice strong hold will be fine.
- 1 or 2 squares of sample fabric to fit your embroidery hoop (calico suggested but any woven fabric is suitable).
- Good quality sewing /embroidery threads of your choice. (I use polyester machine embroidery thread, but feel free to bring along cotton/wool/metallic threads if you like to work with those).
- Scissors: Embroidery and Fabric scissors
- Paper towel
- Sketch book and pencils/pens

Workshop kit fee: $15 per student. This fee includes water soluble fabric, a limited range of embroidery threads, mount boards and various other equipment and consumables provided by the tutor. Pay on the day of the workshop.
